BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. Kenner introduced a bill (H. B. No. 36) to legalize glove contests. It amends the act prohibiting prize fighting by adding the following proviso: "Provided, however, that the foregoing shall not apply to glove contests with gloves weighing not less than five ounces each, and for a limited number of rounds."

Mr. Kenner also introduced house bill repealing the irre and police commission law, stated that she did so in response to general sentiment at Ogden. The law was not satisfactory to the people of that sity, and she had been informed there were many complaints from Salt Lake citizens.

Speaker Perkins yesterday admit istered a sharp rebuse to the house employees for lobbying on the noor while the salary bill was under consideration. He admonished them to a closer ob-

Mrs. Anderson introduced a bill (H. B. No. 39) repealing chapter 73 of the laws of Utah, providing for the appointment of boards of police and fire commissioners in cities of 12,000 and more inhabitants.

Mr. Thomson introduced house bill No. 38, making all taxes payable semi-annually. It amends the revenue act by providing that one-half of the taxes shall become delinquent on Nov. 15, and one-half on May 15, and that the delinquent lists shall be published before the first Monday in December and before the first Monday in June. When the house reconvened it engaged in an informal discussion of the manner in which committee chairmen should proceed in the matter of printing bills. There was a wide divergence of opinion concerning who should hand over the bills that were to be printed and to whom they should be handed and who should act as messaged. handed, and who should act as mes-senger in conveying the bills to the printer. It was at length decided that the printing committee should attend to the printing.

On motion of Mr. Shepard, a communication was addressed to the sen-ate, asking for information as to what action had been taken on the house amendment to the legislative appro-priation bill, which had been returned from the upper house with the amount of the appropriations as fixed by the house, but with nothing to indicate whether such amendment had been concurred in.

THE SALARY BILL.

The legislative salary bill then rose up and kept the house in a state of contention and strife for the remainder of the session. It had been passed on the preceding day, but as passed on the preceding day, but as it was an emergency measure and the affirmative vote was less than two-thirds of the members, it would not become effective until 60 days after the expiration of the session.

Mr. D. S. Cook's motion for a reconsideration was carried and Mr. Shepard offered an amendment, fixing the salaries of all officers at 14 per day, which was adopted.

The bill was then put upon its passage and the roll call brought down.

THE CAUSE.

The failure was largely due to the decrease in profits on account of the unusually large number of special dry goods sales which have been going on during the past few weeks. While the business of the firm is in a good condition, generally speaking, the selling out of other houses has reduced the business and decreased the earnings to such an extent that assignment was the only course open. The liabilities were all of such a nature as to require prompt attention and the firm decided Thursday evening to close its doors. As far as can be learned there was no immediate demand from any of the creditors.

An Italian Has a Woman Arrested For Robbing Him.

The Big Dry Goods House Forced to the Wall.

Lena Erickson was arrested by Officer Shannon yesterday afternoon, the charge of robbery being entered against her name on the police blotter. Later in the day Isaac Johnson, a friend of the woman, was booked for vagrancy, the accusation being merely intended to hold Johnson until his connection with the theft was established. Some Italian with a name not to be attempted in English was playing cards in Sullivan's saloon on State street near police headquarters during the fore part of yesterday afternoon. The woman now in custody is a dissolute character and has apartments in the rear of the saloon. She mixed with the crowd of drinkers in the saloon and became particularly free with the Italian, fondling him until the watch was missed; then some of the Italians indicated Lena as the guilty person. The victim followed her into the back room and seized her by the throat, demanding the property. Her associate, Johnson, has been named as assignment for the benefit of a large number of creditors. Henry G. McMillan, ex-councilman, has been named as assignment. The liabilities, according to the articles of assignment, aggregate $55, 18 designated as preferred credits.
